

SPS Commerce Named as a "Best Place to Work" for Fourth Consecutive Year by the Minneapolis/St. Paul Business Journal

Company Honored for Creating a Positive Work Environment and Earning High Marks for Employee Satisfaction

MINNEAPOLIS, Jul 26, 2010 (GlobeNewswire via COMTEX News Network) -- SPS Commerce (Nasdaq:SPSC), a leading provider of on-demand supply chain management solutions, announced today that it has been named a Minneapolis/St. Paul Business Journal's 2010 Best Places to Work. Winners were selected based on employees' responses to an independent survey addressing corporate culture, employee benefits, advancement possibilities, and more. SPS Commerce was previously awarded this distinction in 2005, 2007, 2008 and 2009.

The Best Places to Work initiative was created to recognize and honor those companies that have created positive work environments, recognize and share best practices, promote local employers, and provide valuable feedback and data to participating companies that will assist them in measuring levels of employee satisfaction and engagement. Winners will be honored at a luncheon on August 26, 2010, at the Minneapolis Hilton, and in a special segment of the Minneapolis/St. Paul Business Journal's August 27th issue.

"SPS Commerce is pleased to be named a Best Places to Work for the fifth time," said Archie Black, President and CEO of SPS Commerce. "This honor is granted to companies based on the independent and confidential feedback from their employees. At SPS Commerce, we continually strive to deliver a workplace where people feel valued and challenged to excel. With this award, our employees have demonstrated that our continued attention to creating a dynamic workplace through a participative culture, competitive benefits, and commitment to advancing their careers, has delivered on its mission."

SPS Commerce is headquartered in downtown Minneapolis. SPS strongly encourages career development of its staff, and this commitment has resulted in approximately 25 percent of its employees receiving promotions in the past 12 months. The company offers a comprehensive employee benefits package, and its single greatest source for attracting new talent is through its employee referral program, another sign that SPS employees enjoy working for the company and recommend it to friends and colleagues as a great place to work.
