Web-based EDI Visionary, Jim Frome, Named a 2008 Pro to Know by Supply & Demand Chain Executive

Minneapolis, Minn., March. 19, 2008 - SPS Commerce, the leading provider of Web-based EDI services, today announced that its Chief Strategy Officer, Jim Frome, has again been named a Provider Pro to Know by Supply & Demand Chain Executive.

The Supply & Demand Chain Executive Provider Pros to Know is a listing of individuals from a software firm or sservice provider, consultancy, or analyst or research firm who have a vision for the 21st century supply chain and have personally helped clients apply technology or processes to modernize their supply chains.

This past year, Mr. Frome has been a frequent speaker and author of published articles on visionary topics including globalization, Web-based EDI, and Trading Partner Integration Centers.

"This year's Provider Pros to Know have shown themselves to be thought-leaders in their respective supply chain segments," said Andrew K. Reese, editor of Supply & Demand Chain Executive. "Their efforts in developing the tools and processes necessary for supply chain transformation, and in promoting new approaches to supply chain enablement, are helping raise Supply Chain's status within the enterprise and have earned them a place on this year's Provider Pros listing."

The full listing of the 2008 Pros to Know is available in the February/March 2008 issue of Supply & Demand Chain Executive magazine and on the Supply & Demand Chain Executive web site at www.SDCExec.com/2008Pros.

"Jim Frome's vision and leadership has led many of our CPG and retail customers to advance their use of B2B integration to electronically connect with global trading partners such as freight forwarders, sourcing agents, 3PLs and more, resulting in improved supply chain visibility and shorter fulfillment cycles," stated Archie Black, president and CEO of SPS Commerce. "Only with a SaaS model, like the one used by SPS Commerce, could these supply chain partners connect and share necessary order and shipment information without any infrastructure requirements. We are pleased that Mr. Frome has been again recognized for his contribution to our industry."
