Apr 10, 2024

Long time partners come together to expand SPS Commerce's leadership in full-service Electronic Data Integration (EDI) with System Automation for suppliers and trading partners

MINNEAPOLIS--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Apr. 10, 2024-- SPS Commerce, Inc. (NASDAQ: SPSC), a leader in retail supply chain cloud services, acquired SAP B1 SPS Integration Technology from Vision33, an expert in EDI system automation.

"We are pleased to welcome Vision33's SAP B1 SPS integration employees to our growing team of retail management experts," said Chad Collins, CEO of SPS Commerce. "Today's complex environment means it's critical for retailers and suppliers to build a resilient supply chain – and automation is a key component to doing so. With today's news, SPS and Vision33 customers have access to market-leading enhanced retail and system expertise to drive automation throughout their workflows and business processes, setting them up for success, no matter what the future brings."

As part of the World's Retail Network, SPS customers benefit from resources that help them grow their business, including:

- Access to the industry's broadest trading community, which includes more than 120,000 trading partners to date in over 80 countries;
- Superior integration with more than 400 leading accounting/ERP, e-commerce, warehouse management, and packing and shipping applications;
- Expanded capabilities for connecting with global supply chain partners, such as third -party logistics providers (3PLs), international sourcing companies and factories;
- Access to hundreds of pre-qualified technology companies and consulting firms to support the next phase of their business.

Collins continued: "SPS Commerce and Vision33 share a commitment to delivering a full-service customer experience, including market-leading technology and access to industry experts. We look forward to continuing this deep tradition alongside our new colleagues."
