Photo Release -- SPS Commerce's New Trading Partner Intelligence Module Helps Retailers Measure and Improve Vendors' EDI Compliance

Online Analytic Solution Includes an EDI Compliance Scorecard, Enabling Increased Collaboration to Drive Supply Chain Performance

MINNEAPOLIS, May 22, 2012 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- SPS Commerce (Nasdaq:SPSC), a leading provider of on-demand supply chain management solutions, today announced the release of Trading Partner Intelligence — EDI Compliance, a new service that helps retailers understand vendors' compliance with their electronic trading requirements and proactively address any trends or issues. The cloud-based module includes an EDI Compliance Scorecard that enables buyers and vendors to partner and improve the accuracy, content and timeliness of EDI data. Vendors can also access their performance data to continuously track and improve their compliance.

The Trading Partner Intelligence - EDI Compliance module helps retailers maximize their EDI investment by monitoring and improving vendor compliance after initial testing and certification. Retailers can use SPS' service to analyze trends in key areas including:

- Document correctness: are vendors sending documents that meet EDI syntax and retailer-specific requirements?
- Document content: how often does the retailer receive all of its mandatory fields?
- Document timeliness: is the retailer receiving EDI documents within required timelines?
- Document volume: what documents do vendors trade and which vendors are the most active by document?

"This new service equips retailers and vendors with access to real-time compliance data to encourage collaboration and performance improvements throughout the course of the trading relationship," said Archie Black, CEO of SPS Commerce. "Several of our retail customers are already looking forward to using the new service with their vendors as they strive for more efficiency across their global supply chains."
