SPS Commerce to Present at Microsoft Dynamics Convergence 2013

Microsoft Dynamics Community Will Learn How SPS' Cloud-Based EDI Services Mitigate Risk, Preserve Internal Resources and Control Electronic Trading Expenses

MINNEAPOLIS, March 12, 2013 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- SPS Commerce (Nasdaq:SPSC), a leading provider of on-demand supply chain management solutions, today announced that David Novak, executive vice president at SPS Commerce, will present at Convergence 2013. The session, Navigating Your EDI Options with SPS Commerce, will take place on Thursday, March 21, 2013, at 1:00 p.m. at the Ernest N. Morial Convention Center in New Orleans, Louisiana.

The 60-minute session will explore the differences between in-house software solutions, managed service providers and agile cloud-based solutions. Novak will outline the different EDI options available and the criteria to determine which EDI option is the best fit. In addition, attendees will learn about analytics and other advancements from SPS Commerce that enable companies to grow their businesses faster by connecting to the industry's most broadly adopted, enterprise retail cloud services platform.

"SPS Commerce has been successfully powering the trading partner relationships of Dynamics users for many years," said Novak. "SPS' network of more than 50,000 retail companies makes it easy to connect with everyone in their supply chain, from retail customers to 3PLs to suppliers. The session at Convergence will enable attendees to discover how to make EDI an asset to grow their business in 2013."
