SPS Commerce Unveils Next Generation EDI Adapter for Sage Peachtree Accounting Software

Manufacturers Can More Rapidly Integrate Order and Invoicing Information From Trading Partners and Leverage SPSCommerce.net's EDI Connections With 1,500 Retailers

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 26, 2011 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- SPS Commerce (Nasdaq:SPSC), a leading provider of on-demand supply chain management solutions, today unveiled the latest version of its SPS Adapter for use with Sage Peachtree Accounting Software. Organizations using Sage Peachtree Pro Accounting, Sage Peachtree Complete Accounting, Sage Peachtree Premium Accounting or Sage Peachtree Quantum can use the adapter to electronically share order and invoice documents with their trading partners. The adapter connects Peachtree systems with SPSCommerce.net, allowing companies to connect with more than 1,500 retailers and join the more than 38,000 trading partners using SPSCommerce.net to manage and fulfill orders in the retail supply chain.

"The new adapter helps our customers more easily and rapidly integrate important order and invoicing information with their global trading partners," said Archie Black, president and CEO of SPS Commerce. "We have received very positive feedback from our beta customers who have been using the adapter and are pleased to provide it to the retail marketplace."

With the SPS Adapter, Peachtree users can electronically share Purchase Orders (EDI 850), Remittance Advices (EDI 820), Invoices (EDI 810) and Warehouse Shipping Orders (EDI 940) with their retail trading partners. The adapter is designed to also cross-reference items and trading partners, and, if an error occurs, it automatically communicates the necessary information to SPS Commerce's customer support staff for rapid resolution.
