

Next Proteins, Inc. Improves Supply Chain Efficiency with SPS Commerce's EDI Service for Sage MAS 90 ERP

Web-based EDI Service Streamlines Order Fulfillment with NEXT Protein's 3PL Partners and Retail Customers

Minneapolis, Minn., June 2, 2010 - SPS Commerce (NASDAQ: SPSC), a leading provider of on-demand supply chain management solutions, today announced Next Proteins, Inc., makers of DESIGNER WHEY, America's #1 protein since 1993, is using SPS' web-based EDI Service for Sage MAS 90. With the automated system, Next Proteins, Inc. is streamlining order fulfillment with third-party logistics providers (3PLs) and retail customers, including FST Logistics, AAFESH-E-B, Fred Meyer, Kroger, Publix Super Markets, Rite Aid Pharmacy, SUPERVALU and Vitamin Shoppe.

"By integrating SPS Commerce's EDI Service with our MAS 90 system, we have hands-free order fulfillment that we can trust," said Paul Koch, IT Manager at Next Proteins, Inc. "We are electronically connected to our retail and grocery customers, as well as our 3PL, FST Logistics. Today we are using SPS' EDI service to exchange the majority of our purchase orders, invoices, warehouse documents and shipping notices with supply chain partners. In addition to saving time, SPSCCommerce.net provides the accurate and timely communications that our customers need."

SPS Commerce's EDI Service for Sage ERP systems, integrated using SWK Technologies' MAPADOC solution, helps suppliers more easily exchange supply chain documents with trading partners. The on-demand service delivers greater functionality with less cost and risk than traditional EDI software. Suppliers, like Next Proteins, Inc., are enabled to exchange sales orders, advance ship notices, invoices, warehouse shipments and other required documents with trading partners around the globe. The integrated EDI Service offers suppliers a single integration point from their MAS 90 ERP system to SPS, instead of creating unique EDI maps for each transaction/customer combination.

"We are pleased to offer Next Proteins, Inc. an integrated EDI service that can grow to meet the needs of its expanding business," stated Archie Black, President and CEO of SPS Commerce. "Next Proteins, Inc. joins more than 1,300 suppliers using our SPSCCommerce.net services with Sage ERP systems to more efficiently work with trading partners."
