

SPS Commerce Appoints New Board Member Philip Soran

Compellent Co-Founder and CEO Brings Decades of Proven Industry Expertise and Leadership to SPS' Board of Directors

MINNEAPOLIS, July 19, 2010 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- SPS Commerce (Nasdaq:SPSC), a leading provider of on-demand supply chain management solutions, today announced that it has appointed Philip Soran to its board of directors.

Mr. Soran serves as chairman, president and CEO of Compellent (NYSE:CML), having co-founded the corporation in 2002. Compellent is a leading provider of enterprise-class network storage solutions that successfully completed its IPO in October 2007. He also co-founded Xiotech Corporation, and was its president and CEO from July 1995 to August 2001. Mr. Soran replaces retiring board member, Murray R. Wilson, a Special Consultant to Mayfield & Robinson, Inc., the investment management company for River Cities Capital Funds.

"We are pleased to welcome Philip Soran to our board of directors," said Archie Black, President and CEO of SPS Commerce. "His experience and track record of successfully leading high-growth technology organizations make him a great addition to our board. We look forward to working with him. I would also like to thank Murray Wilson for his dedication and contribution to SPS Commerce as a director. Representing one of SPS' venture capital investors, his guidance over the years has helped SPS Commerce to strengthen its market position and prepare SPS to become a publicly traded entity."
