SPS Commerce Named To Supply & Demand Chain Executive 100 For Fourth Consecutive Year

SaaS Supply Chain Integration Provider Recognized for Reducing Costs and Delivering Efficiencies to the Retail Supply Chain

Minneapolis, Minn., June 23, 2009 - SPS Commerce, the leading Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) trading partner integration center provider, today announced it has been named to Supply & Demand Chain Executive magazine's 2009 Executive 100 list for the fourth consecutive year.

The 2009 Supply & Demand Chain Executive 100 are supply chain solution and service providers that are helping their customers and clients both respond to the downturn and, more importantly, position themselves for growth ahead.

"SPS Commerce is honored to be named to this prestigious list of supply chain innovators," commented Archie Black, president and CEO of SPS Commerce. "This year's theme demonstrates the mindset of today's business leaders as they look not only at growth, but building efficiencies within the supply chain. SaaS solutions like SPSCommerce.net are helping the retail supply chain to eliminate costs while improving their connections and visibility with trading partners across the globe. These changes are important to today's bottom line, and will be even more beneficial in preparing companies to respond more quickly when the economy rebounds. We would like to extend our sincere appreciation to the judging committee and Supply & Demand Chain Executive for honoring us again with their award."

A full listing on the winners is featured in the cover story of the July 2009 issue of Supply & Demand Chain Executive, as well as online at www.SDCExec.com/SDCE100.
