

SPS Commerce and Forward Hindsight Team to Provide Cloud-Based Ecommerce Solutions

Several e-Retailers and Distributors Choose Integrated ERP and EDI Services as an End-to-End Solution to Help Achieve Their Online Sales Initiatives

MINNEAPOLIS, May 3, 2011 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- SPS Commerce (Nasdaq:SPSC), a leading provider of on-demand supply chain management solutions, and Forward Hindsight, a provider of business consulting and cloud integration services and NetSuite's #1 Global Solution Provider in 2009, today announced that they have teamed to provide organizations with an integrated solution to automate the supply chain processes associated with ecommerce initiatives. The companies are delivering SPS' proven EDI service, SPSCcommerce.net, with more than 38,000 customers, and the cloud platform and business expertise of Forward Hindsight to several joint customers signed earlier this year.

"Many of our customers are looking to advance their own ecommerce initiatives or wanting to better support their retail customers' online sales by streamlining how they manage the unique requirements of ecommerce including item management, integration and inventory visibility," said Archie Black, President and CEO of SPS Commerce. "We are pleased to partner with Forward Hindsight, a recognized leader in the cloud and NetSuite communities, and more rapidly provide a solution to support our customers' ecommerce needs."

"After successfully deploying a solution on behalf of a supplier in 2010, we were impressed by the capabilities of SPS' cloud-based services and their supply chain expertise," said Ashish Gadnis, Managing Partner and CEO of Forward Hindsight. "More of our customers were looking for an end-to-end solution with easy integration to their ERP solution. This partnership answers this need in the marketplace and is already delivering value to our joint customers."
